

An App branded for you from Zero Cost plus SMS and Email

Middle and Secondary Schools, you've got your own website, now get an App from Zero Cost

Over 95% of parents and students now own a smartphone, spending 75% of their smartphone time on Apps, so if you haven't got an App you're probably missing a key way of communicating with them.

With less time at the school gate, parents can sometimes feel they are getting less communication from their child and the school at a very important time in their child's education, this when you need your own App. One smart App, which can bridge that communication gap. An App with easy access to the school calendar on their smartphone, messages to keep parents informed about things that are going on in school, plus links to all the third-party systems you use in school.

Students can also get in on the action with the App giving them direct access via their smartphone to all the Apps and websites that you used in school as well as keeping them up-to-date with events in school and school news. Your own App is vital for your School and can help improve both family and student engagement.

What about the cost though? As a team of Governors, Teachers and EdTech experts, we understand completely budgetary pressures. That's why we have a range of prices from an App with a unique Zero Cost option through to an App that not only can send your emails but also combines cutting-edge free App/Push Messaging with SMS text messages saving money against your existing 'old school' text message system.
